Wm. S. Knoll, 59 years old, died Saturday morning in his home on East Fourth street of a paralytic stroke sustained on Tuesday of last week. He formerly resided at Gettysburg. He leaves his wife and many relatives to mourn his demise. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon and burial made in the Greenville cemetery.

Edward Cordell, the plasterer and veteran of the Civil war, died Thursday night in his home on East Fifth street, from a stroke of paralysis sustained about a week previous. He leaves his wife, six sons and three daughters.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the residence and burial made in Greenville cemetery.

Upon our roll of honor today we can place the following named patrons:

Jerry Smith.
C. M. Dalrymple.

Mrs. Wm. Evans, 55 years old, died of paralysis Thursday evening in her home on Morrow street, leaving her husband and several children. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon and burial made in Abbottsville cemetery.

Mrs. E. McCown, an aged colored lady, died Saturday evening in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Haywood Collins, in German township. Her husband preceded her in death several years, but a number of children and grandchildren survive her. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at Long, O., and burial made in the Bass cemetery.

The city board of education on Tuesday night of last week employed Prof. F. C. Kirkendall of Chillicothe, O., as superintendent of our public schools for one year, at an increased salary of $2300. There were sixty applicants for the position. Prof. Kirkendall is about 45 years old, a graduate of Ohio University at Athens, O., and comes very highly recommended.

The Postoffice Department at Washington, in a recent ruling, will require more definite addresses on printed envelopes after July 1 next. The envelope must then bear the name of the street and number of room occupied by business men. If this cannot be given, the exact location must be printed in words, viz: "South-west corner Fourth and Broadway," etc.

Mrs. Maria Thorn, mother of Mrs. Ella Blood, was found dead on the floor of their sitting room Friday afternoon, when the latter came home for dinner, death resulting from heart disease. Neighbors had seen the deceased about the yard as late as 11 o'clock that morning, and her death must have occurred near that hour, as the body was cold when found. She was about 78 years old and leaves one daughter and two sons, the latter residing in Michigan. The remains were buried at Waynesville, Ohio, beside those of her husband, who preceded her in death about a year and a half ago.

Timely Advice to Men.
You need not be ashamed of your follies, but you ought to be ashamed not to correct them. If you are not ready to correct them today you will be less so tomorrow.

Do it now. This is a motto we see tacked up in many places and it's a good text to follow. To avoid delay in caring for diseases is to avoid damage.

If you are not physically sound get busy with yourself. The debt you owe to posterity is to permit them to inherit from you a clear mind, good nerves, pure blood and a sound body.

You are not what you should be. Come talk it over with Dr. Kutchin, a careful specialist, who has had 35 years' experience. A friendly talk will cost you nothing. If you are satisfied you will find my prices easily within your reach.

Dr. Kutchin's next visit to Greenville, will be on Thursday, May 28, at the Hotel James. Consultation, examination and advice free. Adv

Moving the Earth's Axis.

Now that modern engineers have separated continents and dammed floods, the next task to which some of them aspire is the improvement of the earth's climate by the changing of the inclination of the earth's axis. One means of accomplishing this is thought to be the inundation of the Sahara desert, when the shifting of the pole would be or might be incidental through the transfer of weight.

But now a New York engineer, Carroll Livingston Riker, proposes a deliberate attack upon the axis. He wants to build a jetty 200 miles long eastward from Cape Race in order to turn aside the cold Arctic currents into warm waters of the mid-Atlantic. This, he says, would abolish the cold winters from Newfoundland to Hatteras, iceberg perils would become a thing of the past, and the inclination of the terrestrial axis would be shifted "a trifle." He adds that the work would be much cheaper than the Panama canal.

Mince meat.
Three pounds chopped meat, two lean and one fat; three pounds of chopped dried apples, one pint each of currants, molasses and vinegar, two pounds each of raisins and sugar, three tablespoonsful of cinnamon, two tablespoonsful each of cloves and allspice and one grated nutmeg.
Put all in a stewpan and moisten with the broth in which the meat was cooked. Salt to taste. Cook all together about forty-five minutes.
